Cloud Watching

Jennifer Hammons, Site Supervisor

With the weather getting warmer, the kids and staff are all eager to go outside and enjoy it. Ms. Kelley's Self Care club is the perfect place to be on these days. They treat themselves to the nice weather by doing things like chalk drawings, hikes, and the latest, cloud watching.

The kids enjoyed laying on tarps and looking up at the sky, watching the clouds floating by. Ms. Kelley explained to them how to see shapes and figures, and before long the kids were finding dragons and dogs above their heads. They had a good time telling stories based on what they found.
