

#1 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked the towers and bridges

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students preferred the image to the right with more play variety

#2 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked these towers the most
- Long slide and cool things to climb on were a plus

West Clay Elementary School:

- Interesting to climb ("twisty")
- Students liked the long slide and height of the structure

#3 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Everyone liked the bridges
- Students liked that the bridge to the left brings you close to nature, bugs and animals

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students liked that the bridge to the right is tall and artistic
- Students liked that the bridge to the left is connected to nature through the tree canopies

#4 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students preferred traditional swings to the group swings shown below
- Some Carmel parks already have the swing shown to the right

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students equally liked both swings shown below

#5 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked the slide to the right because it's bigger and includes rock steps

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students liked the slide to the right, because it looks longer and faster
- Students liked the boulder steps in the image to the right
- Concern that the metal might get hot during the summer

#6 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- The spinner to the right was popular, because you can climb to the top

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students were not very excited about the spinners, but preferred the option to the right

#7 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked the tunnel feeling of the climber to the right, but worried about falling through the nets

West Clay Elementary School:

- No strong reaction from the students

#8 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked the many activities possible with this climber

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students liked the variety of play features and ability to play inside and outside of the structure

#9 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students were worried about splinters

West Clay Elementary School:

- No strong reaction from the students

#10 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked the climbing rocks

West Clay Elementary School:

- No strong reaction from the students

#11 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked the turtle climbing sculpture and started chanting “turtle”

West Clay Elementary School:

- Mixed reactions from the students
- Students liked the ability to climb on and “ride” the spider

#12 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- More students liked the tightrope

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students liked the rubber climbing balls, because you can jump on them and they are colorful
- Students did not like the tightrope, because it looks dangerous and you need to wait in line to use it

#13 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked the topography

West Clay Elementary School:

- Mixed reactions from students

#14 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked the color and unique character

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students liked the bands of color and slide incorporated into the bottom right image

#15 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- No strong reaction from the students

West Clay Elementary School:

- No strong reaction from the students

#16 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Not strong reaction from the students

West Clay Elementary School:

- No strong reaction from the students

#17 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students liked the mixture of wet and dry play

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students liked the ability to wear clothes and just get your feet wet
- Students liked the mixture of wet and dry play

#18 WHAT DO YOU THINK?

College Wood Elementary School:

- Students loved the waterfall, but no deep water
- Students thought it would be cool to have climbing through the fog

West Clay Elementary School:

- Students really liked the waterfall
- Students liked the mist and fog incorporated into the playground